

Theatrical and Musical.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.—The entire Ravel troupe will perform this evening in the popular pantomimes of the "Green Monster" and the "Contrabandist." M'lle Zanfretta is to dance on the tight rope between the pieces.

BOWERY.—Miss Sallie St. Clair, quite a favorite here, is to appear to-night in Shakspeare's "Hamlet," and the drama of "Jack Sheppard." Mr. Eddy is to represent the hero in the tragedy. "Hercules" will be the after-piece.

BURTON'S.—The favorite author and actor, Mr. Walcot, is a candidate for a benefit to-night, when it is hoped he will be as handsomely supported by the public at large as by Messrs. Burton, Brougham and other artists.

WALLACK'S.—Messrs. Hoey, Vernon and Allen, Miss Gannon, and Messrs. Blake, Lester, &c., have recently won much well deserved applause for the pains they have taken to properly delineate the characters allotted them in different comedies. See this evening's bill.

LAURA KEENE'S.—People who are fond of superior acting, particularly when combined with beautiful scenery and delicious music, cannot very well spend an evening more agreeably than in witnessing the play of "Blanche of Brandywine."

AMERICAN MUSEUM.—Miss Denin is again to personate the heroine in the popular dramatic adaptation of the "Bride of an Evening" to-night. "Woman" and "Irish Assurance and Yankee Modesty" are announced for the afternoon.

MINSTRELSY.—Wood's Minstrels offer a fresh programme embracing some new features for this evening. "The Sleigh Ride," however, retains its place as the after-piece. The Bryants adhere to the various comicalities and whimsicalities in which they have become so celebrated; and as for Matt. Peel's Campbells, they tender so many new and highly humorous pieces that it would be impossible for any one to attend and not enjoy the performance.

Theatrical and Musical.

The New York Herald (New York, New York, Thursday, May 06, 1858; pg. 5. (283 words)

Category: Arts & Entertainment

Gale Document Number:GT3003640953