AMUSEMENTS IN BOSTON (MASS).

DECEMBER 16.—The Boston Theatre-goers, preferring the Redes of Mr William Warren to that of Mr George Henry, Carte will shortly be withdrawn from the boards of the Globe Theatre to make way for W. S. Gilbert's charming two-act comedy Sweethearts.

THE BOSTON still entertains crowds nightly with Henry the Fifth, and Manager A. A. Elliott is preparing to give place next week for The Two Orphans.

"SCHOOL" has been revived at the MUSEUM.

HOWARD ATHENÆUM.—The programme this week includes Katy, the Hot Corn Girl, in which the clever child artist Bijou Heron and the popular Mr J. R. Studley appear to advantage in the principal parts.

Last Sunday night Gilmore's Band performed at the Boston Theatre. Messrs. J. Levy and M. Arbuckle, cornet soloists, received ovations.

THE Caroline Richings-Bernard Costume Concerts at Tremont Temple the past few evenings have drawn quite as much as they deserved.

Reckless Conduct at a Theatre.

At the Edinburgh Police-court on Tuesday, a young man named Charles Lennox, manager of the gas department at the Queen's Theatre, Edinburgh, was charged with wilfully and maliciously assaulting the Proprietor, Mr H. Levy, on Saturday night, during the performance. The evidence for the prosecution led it appeared that the accused was, on the day in question, the worse for liquor, and that, having some words with the Manager as to the wages, he threatened to blow the place to atoms. This happened just before the commencement of the afternoon performance, and Lennox went to the main meter and turned off the gas from the stage, thus causing great anxiety and annoyance to those behind the curtain. Re-lighting the jets the sudden blaze caused considerable excitement, as the fact that the house was crowded at the time, and that the audience was unaware of what took place, as a panic might have ensued resulting in serious loss of life. He imposed a fine of £2, with the option of twenty days' imprisonment.
